

Control Systems

Phoenix Weighing Services specialise in the design, manufacture and installation of bespoke weighing and control panels to suit customers individual requirements. From full plant control systems and solenoid panels to simple scale instrumentation.

Starting with a free site survey, we will assess your application and, with the benefit of our expertise and experience, provide a cost effective solution to your requirements.

We have supplied control and batching systems to many OEMs and local independent businesses through to multi-national and blue chip companies. Our systems and services have been associated with several major construction projects including Channel Tunnel Rail Link, Heathrow T5 and Wembley Stadium.

Examples of some of the varied and diverse systems we have supplied can be found within the Gallery page of the Phoenix Weighing Services Ltd web site.
